Imagine it's a malicious PDF that will execute code on your workstation to compromise the system and collect sensitive data.
On the other hand, it may be used to deface EPAM systems to manipulate its customers and investors.